

WHITE DESERT

ANTARCTICA

ECHO

Antarctica provides an alluring backdrop for White Desert's newest camp, Echo. Inspired by astronauts and the seminal age of Space exploration, Echo will provide exclusive access to the rarely seen interior of the Continent and is reached by a 5-hour flight from Cape Town which brings guests into the endless daylight of the Antarctic Circle.

Echo is as close as you can get to feeling like you're off the planet without leaving Earth. Visited by notable astronauts including Buzz Aldrin and former ISS Commander Terry Virts, both spoke of the infinite Antarctic landscape and its dramatic mountain ranges, their beauty surpassing that of Venus and Mars. Echo allows guests to combine an ultra-luxury experience with a once in lifetime adventure. An experienced team of chefs, hosts and expert guides allows guests to relax or explore at their leisure. Every trip is bespoke with a wide choice of activities and highlights, such as visiting the nearby 28,000 strong Emperor Penguin colony or a bucket-list journey to the South Pole.

AMENITIES

6 heated bedroom 'sky pods' with en-suite facilities

A spacious communal pod with lounge and dining areas

2 guest shower pods

Fully qualified doctor in camp

2-3 expertly qualified UIAGM high mountain guides (depending on group size)

ECHO ACCOMMODATION

This stylish, modern eco-camp features a central lounge and dining area. The space-age design of the 'Sky Pods' makes them look like they've been beamed down from Mars. Futuristic details feature across the domed sky pod, emulating space station interiors. Each heated pod features floor to ceiling windows allowing guests to soak in the views of the otherworldly moonscapes beyond.

Crafted from composite fiberglass, each of the 'sky pods' will be designed for two guests, with interiors featuring retro space-age detailing and luxurious furnishings.

Original photos taken from the International Space Station (ISS) by former Commander, White Desert guest and retired astronaut, Colonel Terry Virts will be featured in each sky pod. Says Virts of the Echo landscape, "The mountains are the most beautiful I have seen across Earth, Venus and Mars".

*$1000 per person per trip will be directed to White Desert's sustainability and conservation efforts to support global Net Zero targets and green technology initiatives
