Whichaway camp is totally unique and the perfect base from which to start your adventure.

There are six state-of-the-art sleeping pods that are heated and designed for two people in each. At just over 6m (20ft) in diameter, they are also spacious, with a writing desk, wash area and toilet.

For guests travelling separately, the room can be partitioned for privacy.

The rest of the camp comprises a shower pod, kitchen and three centralised pods that make up the reception, lounge and dining room. While the exterior is made from cutting edge materials, the interior has an old-world feel with rich textures. Here you can relax, enjoy the fantastic food from our award-winning chef and take things easy.

DAILY ACTIVITIES

ARCTIC TRUCKS – the most effective and versatile vehicle in the polar regions is the Arctic Truck 6x6. You will learn the nuanced skills of handling one of these machines on the glaciers and rocks of the Schirmacher Oasis.

GLACIER TRAVERSE – learn how to properly traverse a glacier using crampons and ice axes. Crevasses pose one of the great dangers of exploring in Antarctica and Ben will explain the basics of rope work and keeping you safe.

ICE CLIMBING – Antarctica is the last frontier with many unclimbed peaks waiting to be conquered. Learn how to scale walls of ice in the most extraordinary environment.

CRYSTAL CAVES – Sometimes, when the weather turns, the only opportunity for shelter are in the ice caves. Explore a stunning network of caves that are unique to this region.

PACKING THE PULKA - When man-hauling to the pole, your sled is your lifeline. Everything you need will have to fit inside your sled and Ben will teach you how to stay warm and comfortable for our night's camp out.

POLAR NUTRITION - In this cold environment your body will burn calories at a tremendous rate. Using the latest dehydrated food we will teach you to eat well despite the conditions.

CAMP OUT - the trip will culminate in a night camping out on the glacier. The perfect opportunity to put your polar skills to the test and appreciate what it takes!

“It is not down in any map; true places never are.”
Herman Melville

“It is a beautiful place whose description defies words, and I count myself lucky to have trekked across its hallowed ice and rocks. Although this was my first trip to the “bottom of the world,” I surely hope that it will not be my last..”

FULL ITINERARY

DAY BEFORE DEPARTURE

White Desert will host a safety briefing in Cape Town. This is where we will check all your polar clothing and prepare you for your flight south.

DAY ONE

The flight to Antarctica is 5hrs, crossing the thousands of icebergs spread over the southern ocean. Halfway through the flight we cross into the polar circle and into 24hrs continuous daylight.

Landing on the specialist ice runway, you will be surrounded by the Wolf’s Fang range, a true spectacle of the continent. We spend the afternoon amongst kilometre-high monoliths of rock, before connecting to Whichaway camp.

DAY TWO

Ben will draw on his polar experience to teach you how to survive and even be comfortable in Antarctica.

Our first adventure begins at the base of a stunning ‘nunatak’ mountain. With crampons on your feet and an ice-axes in your hands, we will scale a vertical wall of ice and ‘top out’ on the summit.

Returning from the summit, you will be collected by a fleet of Arctic truck 6x6 vehicles and discover just how capable these machines are in this environment. Learn to drive on incredible routes over seemingly impossible terrain!

DAY THREE

Tonight we camp out! To prepare you, Ben will help you pack your sled and ensure you are ready for one of the most remote campsites on earth. We will cross country ski (or walk) into the mountains, passing huge cliff faces, wind scoops and iridescent blue ice.

As you zip the door of your tent closed, you will experience what it is like to be a true explorer.

DAY FOUR

We delve into the ice tunnels and caves near Whichaway camp, where the white landscape betrays nothing of the extraordinary environment just beneath the surface. Created by melt water, the caves extend for hundreds of metres and are a magical place to explore.

Later that day, we climb across a 200ft rock face that overlooks the ice waves. While the walk is not technically difficult, it might get the adrenalin pumping, and will prove the perfect way to complete this unique experience.

This itinerary is entirely subject to weather conditions in Antarctica and is meant as a day-by-day guide of what clients can expect. Exact dates and types of plane may vary.
