

Win a trip to Antarctica

COMPETITION

One lucky Times+ member will win a trip worth £40,000 to Antarctica via Cape Town.

The winner will be whisked away from London to Cape Town, South Africa to stay at the luxury boutique hotel 'The Last Word Constantia' before travelling onwards to Antarctica, landing on an ice runway before being transferred by specialist 4x4s to the unique White Desert camp.

The camp is replete with heated fibre-glass igloos, an award winning chef and an array of incredible experiences. From Emperor penguin colonies to surreal ice tunnels, this is a holiday like no other.

We're giving away this great prize to celebrate the release of Beneath the Ice, which is the latest thriller by Patrick Woodhead and was inspired by his years of expeditions and unique experiences in Antarctica. Eight years ago, Patrick established the luxury White Desert camp where the winner will stay.

The winner will also receive a signed copy of Beneath the Ice.

Please note, this prize is for one person.

Share

