WOLF'S FANG RUNWAY

Our runway is overlooked by one of the most magnificent and iconic mountains on the entire continent, so named 'Wolf's Fang' by the early Norwegian explorers. Once on the ground, you will be surrounded by kilometer-high monoliths of rock that rise vertically from the ice.

● Mess tent

Wolf's Fang is made up of 6 guest sleeping tents, a large communal tent and a newly refurbished washroom facility. All guest areas are heated for your comfort.

The communal tent with adjoining kitchen houses a cosy lounge with rich leather finishes and a dining room where guests are served all meals. Our chef prepares freshly baked bread every morning before the day's activities and each dinner is signed off with a night cap of your choice.

DAILY ACTIVITIES AT WOLF'S FANG

The Wolf's Fang range and its surrounding nunataks are the perfect playground of ice and mountains. Scale walls of ice with the help of axes and crampons, explore wind swept peaks where few humans have ever walked and for the more adventurous, traverse to an overnight remote camp where you will camp out on the glacier just like the explorers of old.

"It is the most beautiful setting I have seen in all of my travels."

Lewis Pugh, OIG - UN Patron of the Oceans

SCALE A VIRGIN SUMMIT

The Høltedahl Mountains are home to a handful of unclimbed peaks, a modern day rarity in today's world of exploration. We will traverse to the base of these mountains where our guides will have set up the camp for the expedition. After a night spent out on the glacier we will take advantage of the 24-hour sunlight and trek into the mountains to summit a peak where no human has stood before.

The climber on the right wears a black jacket, a pink helmet, and a Canada Goose patch. A third climber is visible in the background. The red flag is being pulled up by the climbers.

"Antarctica, the safest place to visit in 2020 and beyond."

YOUR SAFETY

For all its beauty, Antarctica can be a challenging environment, with low temperatures, strong winds and high altitudes. We believe the best way to protect you is through our staff and we are absolutely uncompromising about the experience and expertise of our people.

All our mountain guides have completed the strenuous 5-year UIAGM qualification, while each camp has its own fully-qualified trauma doctor and accompanying medical kits. Our chief pilot has 10 years of experience flying in Antarctica with over 18,000 hours of logged flight time.

Tracking, satellite communications and mutual Search & Rescue agreements are all part of White Desert's comprehensive safety policies. Furthermore, by operating our own aircraft, we also have the speed and flexibility to arrange an evacuation back to Cape Town in the unlikely event that one should become necessary.

ENVIRONMENT

White Desert believes that responsible tourism is a genuine force for good and supports Sir David Attenborough's stance on the transformative power of wilderness travel: "No one will protect what they don't care about, and no one will care about what they have never experienced".

Camp - As a temporary eco-camp, our whole operation can be dismantled and removed without a trace.

Carbon neutral - White Desert was the first aviation operator in Antarctica to be entirely Carbon Neutral, a status the company has held since 2007.

Waste management - We keep waste to a minimum by repackaging all consumables before we bring them to Antarctica, while at the end of the season, all solid waste is shipped back to South Africa for recycling or responsible disposal.
