

ACTIVITIES

Overlooked by Ulvetanna Peak and dramatic mountain ranges, our camp at Wolf's Fang is situated on glacial ice in Queen Maud's Land, a natural playground for explorers looking to discover the fascinating landscapes of Antarctica. Led by UIAGM-qualified guides, there's a wide range of activities for guests at all levels of adventure: from hikes and picnics to ice-climbing and abseiling, Wolf's Fang has something for everyone.

There is no minimum fitness requirement for our activities; guests always have the final decision on which activities they wish to join.*

MOUNTAIN PEAKS

The summits of the seven nearby nunatak mountains can be reached on foot by a variety of routes ranging from gentle to challenging, but they all offer spectacular views.

ICE CLIMBING

With the help of ice axe and crampons, guests will scale walls of ice carved out of the glacier surrounding the Henriksen Nunatak mountains.

WOLF'S FANG LOOP

We've groomed a 25km track in and around the nunatak mountains for guests to enjoy as they please.

SKIING

A chance to explore on skis and discover real solitude.

FATBIKES

There is no better place to ride fatbikes than on an Antarctic glacier!

SKIDOO

Taking a skidoo for a spin opens up thrilling new vistas!

ARCTIC TRUCK SAFARI

Specially converted to Antarctic specifications, the Arctic Truck is in its element on the ice.

Our UIAGM guides will take guests on an exhilarating safari over the glacier, where they will explain how the glacier is formed and share stories from the area's rich history of exploration.

GLACIER CAMP-OUT

The highlight of our Explorers Academy trip, guests can choose to spend a night out on the ice amid the limitless expanses of the Polar Plateau.

PICNICS

Our chefs prepare celebratory champagne picnics so guests can lunch in style as they explore Antarctica's incredible wilderness.

EXPLORERS TRAVERSE & MOUNTAINEERING

Guides lead our guests on a journey out onto the Polar Plateau, hauling pulka sleds as they learn to master the skills of a true Antarctic explorer. Guests can even learn mountaineering skills with our UIAGM-qualified guides among the granite spires of the Holtedahll or Drygalski Mountains; some itineraries even involve the first ascent of a virgin summit!

SCENIC FLIGHTS

Our Basler BT-67 skiplanes offer breathtaking views of mountains, the coast and the Polar Plateau.

Our experienced pilots will gladly fly keen photographers to just the right position to capture the perfect shot!
